FALL/WINTER 025/026

Warm Embrace.

This season marks a quiet evolution. For the first time, a woman model joins our lookbook-wearing pieces crafted from the same refined fabrics that define our menswear. A gesture toward the versatility and timelessness of material over category.

The collection explores winter through texture and form: soft jerseys, enveloping flannels, bold Shetlands, and worsted suits that feel both structured and alive. Tailored light jackets and easy layers offer warmth without heaviness, designed to move with the wearer.

The palette unfolds in muted tones—light beige, soft grey, and pale blue—balanced by bold checks and unexpected color pairings that bring depth and contrast. These visual rhythms echo the collection's tension between softness and strength.

Rooted in craft and shaped by modern elegance, each piece is made to inhabit space with quiet confidence. This is winter dressing, reimagined for those who value comfort, character, and a distinct point of view.
